
Condensate Polishing Purification Technology Steam Power

amine filtration - twinfilter - amine filtration. overview. rich amine is heated in the regeneration column. the steam rising through the regeneration h2s and co2, regenerates the amine. steam and acid gases separated from the rich amine are condensed and cooled. the condensed water is separated in the reflux accumulator and returned to the still. gas treating or sweetening is a term used to describe the various processes ... condensate polishing - veolia water - condensate polishing with separix external regeneration water technologies why polish condensate?
